GIGGLE!

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a red short-sleeved shirt and black leggings with a black and white checkered shirt tied around her waist, is holding a futuristic, grey handheld device. The device has a purple light on its side and a long, thin nozzle. She is pointing the nozzle towards a man's chest. The man has a full beard, is wearing a grey tank top and black jeans, and has his hands raised in a defensive gesture. A pink beam of light from the device is hitting his chest. There are three speech bubbles: a green one at the top, and two pink ones in the center. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.
